DID PARKER STAY AWAY TO PRE-VENT THEIR PROMOTION?

Mis Three Collengues Took Adv antage of Their Right to Make Promott un Without Illm on Chief Conlin's Recommendation Three Policemen Bounced. After waiting for Commissioner Parker until S P. M. yesterday, Police Commission ers Roosevalt, Andrews, and Grant summoned Chief Conlin before them, and on his recommendation promoted the following roundsmen to Sergeant-

Patrick Corcoran of Eldridge street, Frederick E. Wade of Chief Conlin's office, Michael W. Tierney of the Central Office, Robert A. Tighe of Mercer street, Frederick W. Shibles of West Thirtieth street, Jefferson Deevy of the Criminal Court squad, John Daly of Oak street, Harry Hildebrand of the Election Bureau, and Edward J. Walling of East Fifty-first street.

Sergeant Tierney was formerly roundsman in Commissioner Rooseveit's office. Sergeant Walling is a son of former Superintendent Walling. Sergeant Hildebrand has been detailed in the Bureau of Elections for a number of years. He is the man who redistricted the city last year under the new apportionment.
It is surmised that Communicationer Parker kept away from the meeting because he ob-jected to the appointment of a certain roundsman who stood well up on the eligible list. Under the Bi-partisan Police bill a majority of the Board -that is, three Commissioners -may make promotions when they are recommended

Neither Commissioner Roosevelt nor Mr. Andrews would say anything after the meeting concerning Mr. Parker's absence. Col. Grant, Commissioner Parker not being here, the other Commissioners met and made the promo-tions on the recommendation of the Chief of Police. All the men promoted were on the sligible list. The Commissioners were anxious to fill the vacancies, so we went ahead and made the appointments. That is all there is to the matter.

The new Sergeants were at once sworn in, and assigned by Chief Coulin as follows: Wade, to West 125th street; Corcoran, to Madison street; Tierney, to Charles street; Tighe, to Mercer street; Shibles, to West Twentieth street; Deevy, to East Fifty-first street; Daly, to West Thirtieth street; West Street; Daly, to West Thirtieth street, West Thirtieth setions. The Board dismissed Patrolman Patrick Fitz-"Notwithstanding that this man has a very bad record, I have been appealed to by priests, clergymen, and many persons to save him."

Patroiman William W. O'Connor of the Fifth street station and Probationary Patroiman John Bindrim of the same squad were also dismissed. Both were charged with leaving their posts and going into the back room of a Chinese laundry during patrol. A number of policemen were fined for various offences.

The Commissioners gave notice that hereafter

Chief Conilin reported the following transfers:
Sergeant Hobert I. Wallace, from Morrisanta to East 126th street; Nergeant Patrick H. Marrin, West Thirtleth street to High Bridge; Sergeant John Dunu, West Forty-seventh atreet to West 106th street; Patroiman James A. Murray, Oak street to Macdongal street; Patroiman John J. Kehoe, East Twenty-second street to Church ania, to Boller Inspection Bureau.

The following letter from Assemblyman Louis Davidson was read at the meeting:

"Replying to yours of the 1st inst, in relation to the hearing on the anti-spy bill introduced by me in the Assembly, I wish to state that I handed the letter to Mr. Robbins, the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and he requested me to inform the Board of Police Commissioners that the hearing on the said bill will proceed on Wednesday of this week, the date originally selected, and that the bill will receive the same consideration as any other bill, not-withstanding anything to the contrary that the Board may believe."

"I don't think that requires any answer," said withstanding anything to the contrary that the Board may believe."

"I don't think that requires any answer," said President Roosevelt. "We might, however, refer it to the Corporation Counsel. The bill is parely in the interest of certain classes of criminals. The Board cannot for a moment suppose that the Legislature will pass a bill requiring the Board to forbear to use against one class of criminals the same detective methods that it uses against all other classes of criminals. We can hardly suppose that the lawbreaking ilquor seller is to be granted an immunity extended to no other lawbreaker, or that he shall be especially favored beyond other lawbreakers because he possesses a title to Mr. Davidson's gratitude in the fact that he sells liquor."

After reading a letter from Senator Raines announcing that he had amended his excise bill so as to provide for the police pension fund, the Commissioners concluded to suggest to Senator Raines and Chairman Higgins of the Senator Raines and Chairman Higgins of the Senator Raines and Chairman Higgins of the Senator Raines and Chairman to put up their blinds so that the interior may be exposed, and also that the police should have the right of entry into any place where it is believed liquor is being sold.

Commissioner Parker said last night the act of the Board in appointing Sergeants was in no wise adverse to his wishes. Delay in making them had occurred because he wished to look further into therecord of Roundsman Corcorau.
The appointments, Mr. Parker added, were entirely satisfactory to him, and had been decided upon by all the Commissioners before yesterday.

Landlord Raiph Distrains It Ex.Commissioner W. S. Audrews Says It's His.

William S. Andrews, ex-Street Cleaning Commissioner, has brought action in the Supreme Court to recover $6,430 damages from Justus E. Ralph for the distraining of furniture in a cottage owned by Ralph at Asbury Park. Mr. Ralph admits that a demand has been made for the furniture which he has ignored. He says he publicly offered his three-story cottage at Asbury Park for rent last spring, and that An-drews called with Mrs. Nellio M. Colby. Raiph "The said William S. Andrews, on said occasion and in subsequent interviews with defendant, represented himself to be an old friend of said Mrs. Colby, anxious for her welfare, and he acted as her attorney, representative, and be heted as her attorney, representative, and spokesman in discussing the terms of the proposed rental with this defendant."

Halph says further that Andrews stated that Mrs. Coby wanted to rent the house, and that her capital was soiely her furniture, which was more than sufficient to equip it as a bearding house and to secure the rent. Raiph rented the house to her for six months for $575. The first payment, he says, was $150, which was usid by a check of Andrews to Raiph. There is a balance due of $310. Raiph says he wrote to Andrews telling him that the rent was in arrears, and that on Sept. 9 Andrews called and disclaimed to own the furniture under chattel mortgage and a bill of sale for loans of money. He says that Andrews had intimated when the house was rented to Mrs. Coby that he would be responsible for the rent. The chattel mortgages were not filled in New Jersey, and on sept. 18 Raiph distrained the furniture in a suit for the rent.

RAILROAD WAR IN COURT AGAIN. Aggressive Work at Point of Books Sus-pended and Both Sides Go to Court Again.

After one day of aggressive work on the part of the New Jersey Junction Railroad Company, in the effort to secure an outlet to the Na-tional Docks Storage Company's works and make a connection with the New Jersey Central and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad companies by constructing a tunnel under the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's tracks at Fremont street, near the Point of Rocks in Jersey City, the case has gone back into the Chancery

Court.
On Monday the Junction Company made some progress. The Pennsylvania Company made no active resistance to the pulling away of the bulkhead, or the excavating of the em bankment. It did have gondola cars loaded with stone standing on the track at the tou of the embankment. The Junction Company got rid of two of these cars by hitching chains to them and having locomotives drag them down into the excavation. It was understood that two other tracks would be attacked yesterday, but when the Junction Company's men found coetly cassenger cars standing on them they hesitated, as heavy suits for damages might be instituted if they were dragged down into the hole. Under the orders of the Court, the Junction Company has the right to take up three of the Pennsylvania Company's forty-seven tracks at one time, in order to proceed with the construction of the tracks while trains of cars are standing on them.

The Junction Company's laborers had worked for about two hours yesterday morning digging away the embankment when a halt was called. The Junction Company's lawyers had held a consultation and decided that the Pennsylvania Company was in contempt of court by keeping cars on the tracks when the injunction positively prohibited any interference with the work of constructing the tunnel. Lawyer Charles D. Thompson laid the facts before Chancellor McGill, and obtained an order requiring the Pennsylvania Raiirond Company applied to Chancellor McGill for an injunction to restrain the Junction Company from pursuing the work, on the ground that the company's property was being destroyed. The Chancellor granted an order to show cause, and made it returnable next Tuesday, so that both cases will come up at the same time. It is understood that the Pennsylvania Company will claim that no resistance has been made designedly to the construction of the tunnel by the storage of cars on the tracks, but that the commany's storage facilities are inadequate, and there is no other place to put the cars. Nothing further will be done until after the hearings before the Chancellor on Tuesday. with stone standing on the track at the top of the embankment. The Junction Company

HAFFEN DISCOVERED IT ALL. Thinks the Mayor's Commissioners of Ac-

Of the report of the Commissioners of Accounts on a contract in his department for excavation, Commissioner Haffen said yesterday that the "discovery" made by the Mayor's inquisitors of an overcharge for rock excavation was discovered by him and his engineers, who gave the information to the Commissioners of Accounts. Continuing he says:

"The value of the services of the Commissioners of Accounts may be appreciated from their report in this isolated case. From May 1, 1893, the date of my appointment as Commis-sioner of Street Improvements, to Jan. 1, 1896, period of two years and eight months, there was done under my direction and supervision was done under my direction and supervision in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards street and sewer work amounting in cost to about $4,000,000. There were 307 contracts in all, including eighty-six Commissioners' orders. The preliminary estimates and the actual amount of work done during this period will show practically no difference whatever, something, I might say, unprecedented in this line. The particular case reported upon by the Commissioners of Accounts was reported in the daily newspapers on or about Nov. 14 last. They seek to show an excess of about 7,500 cubic yards of rock excavation, which would mean a payment to the contractors of one dollar in excess for every yard of rock excavation that exceeded the actual quantity. As a matter of fact, not one cont has gone astray on this work, assuming even that everything that the Commissioners of Accounts say is correct. The final payment will show that the contractors have carned $16,322.04. Of this amount $14,460.99 has been paid and a balance is due to the contractors of $1,801.05, consequently the Commissioners of Accounts suggestion that a deduction should be made from the final payment under this contract is superfluous, if not ridiculous. They omitted from their report the fact, which was known to them, that I had suspended the engineer in charge of this work [F. D. Holbrook], and they omitted also to state the fact that I subsequently dismissed from this department this same engineer."

Commissioner Haffen appends letters showing that he notified the Comptroller on Nov. 14 of the irregularities under this contractor's money held back pending an investigation, and that he removed the engineer on Nov. 20. in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards

Still a Jury Gave Rosa Kolotken Damages

Max Kleinberg, a glazier of 646 Third avenue, appeared yesterday afternooon in the City Jourt, Part I., before Justice Schuchman and jury as the defendant in an action brought against him by Rosa Kolotken to recover $5,000 for breach of promise of marriage. This suit is rather unusual, from the fact that it was first brought in May, 1890, when Kleinberg was arrested. He was brought then before Justice Ehrlich and asked if he would marry Rosa. He consented, but Rosa refused. He was thereupon discharged, and a month later he married another woman, by whom he now has three chil-

Cherry street. She was introduced to the de-Cherry street. She was introduced to the defendant in 1859 and got engaged to him three months after the introduction. A formal marriage contract was drawn up between Rosa and Max, which was put in evidence. "Max told me after our engagement," said Rosa, "that I should give up my position as seamstress and go to his place of business, which I did."

The witness said she gave Max 550 and spent $100 in oreparations for the wedding, which was to take place on May 8, 1800. She admitted that when Max was arrested on her complaint she declined to marry him. She said she refused because he had threatened to make her life misserable for her. She also admitted that he had given her a watch and a pair of bracelets.

The defendant testified that he was introduced to Rosa by a schatchen, and admitted that he became engaged to the plaintiff. He told about going to the home of the schatchen, where he met the latter's wife, and she told him to go to the photograph gailery of her husband on the Bowery. It was on April 1, and he was sent on an April fool's errand. He said that when he went up stairs some one, he thought the schatchen, grabbed him and threw him down two diants of stairs. When he got back to the schatchen's house he found Rosa there. She laughed at him and he left, saying that he engagement, he said.

After being out an hour the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $305. fendant in 1809 and got engaged to him three Lumber Benters Attached.

The Shoriff received yesterday two attachments against Robinson & Booth, wholesale dealers in yellow pine, at 91 Wall street, one for $1,085 in favor of John Dunn, Son & Co., and the other for $2,327 in favor of Robert W. and the other for $2,337 in favor of Robert W. Brownson, on a check to the order of the Hilton & Dodge Lumber Company of Georgia, payment of which check was stopped at the bank. Both attachments were granted on the ground of non-residence, Mr. Robinson being a resident of Orange and Mr. Booth of New Haven. The latter, it is said, is at home sick, and Mr. Robinson is down South at the mills. They are among the largest dealers in yellow pine in the city. It was said in the trade that the attachments were only precautionary measures, and would doubtless be settled as soon as the partners could be heard from.

FELL FROM THE NINTH STORY. Porter Killed While Shovelling Show

Frank Marley, a porter in the Fulton building at Nassau and Fulton streets, climbed out of an office window on the ninth floor, at 716 A. M. yesterday, in order to remove the snow which had collected on the coping that runs around the building. The coping is about two feet wide. Marley went to work shovelling off the wide. Marley well would not drip down on the people in the street when it melted.

He had nearly completed his job when he suddenly slipped on the ice ledge and lost his balance. He made a grab for the edge of the coping, which he managed to catch hold of, and for a moment he held himself there. The next instant he lost his hold, and with a cry fell to instant he lost his hold, and with a cry fell to the sidewalk.

Polleeman Eagan of the Oak street station, who happened to be passing at the time, narrowly escaped being struck by Marley's body in its fail. The porter landed on the pavement almost directly at the policeman's feet. A number of people who had seen the man fall ran up to him. He was breathing very faintly, so an ambulance was summoned from the Hudson Street Hospital, but he died before its arrival.

Nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Louis McGee, who was shavelling the snow from the coping on the fifth floor of the building, narrowly escaped failing shortly before Marley was killed. McGee also slipped, but was fortunate enough to grab the bottom of a window sash, near which he happened to be, and thus saved himself.

Prospects that the new Government loan will be largely oversubscribed gave an upward impetus to prices on the Stock Exchange to-day. money market should follow. Present Indications are that every one who hopes to secure bonds has made arrangements for paying the first installment upon them, and the manner in which that payment is accomplished will probably influence subsequent installments.

There was some disposition to withdraw gold from the Sub-Treasury to-day, and future operations of that character will, of course, be watched with great interest. There was no change in the money market to-day, but foreign off in the supply of bills. This is possibly ex-plained by the fact that London was a moderate seller of stocks instead of a buyer, as it has been recently. The noteworthy transactions on the Stock Exchange were in the Granger shares, Sugar Refining, Louisville and Nashville, United States Leather, Tennessee Coal and Iron, and Missouri Pacific. All of these except the last named closed materially higher than yesterday. The exceptional decline in Missouri Pacific was accompanied by reports of a lack of harmony in the management, which were promptly denied by the President and the most influential directors of the company, namely, Mr. Gould and Mr. Sage.
